

Professional Formulas has been producing high-quality supplements and homeopathic remedies for healthcare professionals for more than 40 years.

Homeopathic remedies are safe, can be taken with other medications or supplements, and are supported by more than 1,100 scientific studies published in medical journals. Combination homeopathic remedies include low concentrations of multiple ingredients and are selected based on presenting symptoms, making them approachable without formal homeopathic training.

Our formulations integrate traditional homeopathic preparation methods with modern testing, manufacturing, and quality standards:

- Remedies are delivered as liquids, ensuring dose consistency, allowing ingredients to become bioavailable without capsule or tablet breakdown, and eliminating the need for fillers/excipients.
- All incoming ingredients and finished products are tested by an ISO-certified, third-party laboratory.
- Our facility is an FDA-registered drug establishment that operates to drug-level GMP standards.
- Remedies are serially diluted 1:10 using traditional hand-succussion, resulting in X potencies that often include ingredient concentrations measured in parts per million, billion, or trillion, similar to concentrations found in many biological systems.

Remedies are organized into clinically intuitive categories, making product selection straightforward.

Condition & Symptom Remedies

address specific symptomatic presentations, offering targeted relief from common complaints. Product names typically describe the symptoms they relieve.*

Examples include Anxious Drops, Weight Management Drops, Anti-Inflammation Drops, or Nasal Spray.

Organ & System Remedies

include low-potency homeopathic attenuations of glandulars and herbs, selected to address symptoms associated with specific organs or systems.*

Product names usually reference the target organ or system, such as Brain Enhancement Liquescence, Lung Stim Liquescence, or Whole Body Detox Liquescence.

Allergen, Pathogen & Toxin Remedies contain homeopathic micro-doses of environmental or biological materials; they are intended for use with symptom patterns that resemble those traditionally associated with the source material.*

Product names reflect the source material. Examples include Flu Nosode (includes flu strains), or Airborne Allersode (includes common airborne allergens).
