What is the Flu Nosode?

Flu Nosode is a homeopathic remedy reformulated annually based on the predominant circulating flu strains, which have been inactivated and serially diluted in 20% alcohol and water. It also contains Anas barbariae, the active ingredient in Oscillococcinum®

Flu Nosode is a natural alternative to other OTC products for temporarily relieving cold & flu-like symptoms such as low-grade fever, chills, muscle aches, congestion, occasional headache, intestinal upset, or fatigue.*

What is a homeopathic remedy?

Homeopathy is a class of natural products regulated by the FDA as a special class of over-the-counter drugs. Homeopathy has been around for hundreds of years. It uses diluted substances to relieve symptoms by triggering the body's natural, healthy responses.*

Is it evidenced-based?

More than 1,100 scientific studies of homeopathy have been published in medical journals. The active ingredients in Professional Formulas' products are frequently in concentrations such as parts per million, parts per billion or parts per trillion, or even lower. Research confirms that even substances at low concentrations can significantly impact a person's health.

Is it safe?

Homeopathic medicines have established a remarkable safety record over more than 200 years. They can be taken safely with other medications or supplements.
